Poetry and Personal Essay Contest Deadlines

As mentioned in the last issue of Study and Faith, beginning in 2022, the Clinton F. Larson Poetry Contest and the Richard H. Cracroft Personal Essay Contest, both sponsored by BYU Studies, will offer the following awards:

First Prize	$1,500
Second Prize	$1,000
Third Prize	$500

These contests are open to all writers except employees of BYU Studies, their immediate families, and members of the editorial board. Authors who receive an award are not eligible to compete in that category for the next year but may enter the other category.

The deadline for entering is January 31, 2022. Instructions for submitting entries are available on the BYU Studies website.

Call for Cover Art

BYU Studies Quarterly welcomes submissions for art to be printed on the cover of the journal. Cover art has been a strength of BYU Studies for many years. Though in the past the featured images have been chosen by the editors, we have decided to accept submissions for cover art to expose our readers to the range of edifying, evocative art now being created by Latter-day Saint artists.

All artists who have produced work that is informed by the restored gospel of Jesus Christ are invited to submit images, one at a time, for consideration, along with a brief essay about the artwork. To submit artwork, visit byustudies.byu.edu, go to the Submissions menu, choose Cover Art Submissions, and follow the directions there. Any artists whose submission is selected for publication will receive $200.

About Your Subscription

A warm welcome to all of you who have recently discovered BYU Studies Quarterly. In order to allow for the best possible service, here are a few of our office procedures we would like to make you aware of:

- On the address card that comes with each issue, we print the volume and number of that issue as well as the volume and number of the issue when your subscription expires. For example, “This is issue 60:4; your subscription expires with 61:3.” There are four issues in each volume.
- We send renewal notices shortly before you receive your last issue. If you have given us your email address, we will send you an email renewal notice prior to sending the postal renewal notice. In order to keep costs down, we don’t send out multiple renewal notices, as many magazines do.

- If you are moving, please update your address as soon as possible. We send the issues through the U.S. Postal Service by bulk mail, which means they are not reliably forwarded. Some get sent on, but many don’t. They are not sent back to us at BYU Studies but are discarded by the Postal Service. This process is not within our control. If you don’t update your address, you will probably miss an issue or two and will be lost to us until we hear from you.
- You are welcome to contact us by phone: 801-422-6691; by email: byustudies@byu.edu; or by mail: BYU Studies, Brigham Young University, 1063 JFSB, Provo, UT 84602.
- Guidelines for submitting manuscripts may be viewed on our website: <http://byustudies.byu.edu>. Click on the Submissions tab.

Book Version of Volume 60, Number 3 Available for Purchase

The previous issue of BYU Studies Quarterly, titled Yet to Be Revealed: Open Questions in Latter-day Saint Theology, was published in both journal and book form. Copies of the journal are almost gone, but we have plenty of copies of the book. If you have family members or friends who might be interested in reading this important publication, you can purchase copies of the book version using the order form on the back of this sheet.

Winter Discounts on Selected BYU Studies Books

BYU Studies regularly discounts selected titles as a service to our subscribers.

Adventures of the Soul: The Best Creative Nonfiction from BYU Studies, edited by Doris R. Dant

259 pages, softcover ~~$14.95~~ $5.00

Sometimes with blunt candor, sometimes with delightful humor, these essays trace gospel messages in the lives of ordinary and not-so-ordinary Latter-day Saints. Miracles, love, pain, the substance of life—all can be found in these stories.

From the Muddy River to the Ivory Tower: The Journey of George H. Brimhall, by Mary Jane Woodger and Joseph H. Groberg

281 pages, hardcover, ~~$18.95~~ $7.00

“Education is more than preparing for life,” George H. Brimhall once said. “It is life.” Education became his constant passion, sustaining him through humble beginnings as a Utah pioneer to his pivotal role as president of Brigham Young University (1904–1921).

Mountain Meadows Massacre: The Andrew Jensen and David H. Morris Collections, edited by Richard E. Turley Jr. and Ronald W. Walker

352 pages, hardcover ~~$44.95~~ $12.00

During research for their 2008 book Massacre at Mountain Meadows: An American Tragedy, Ronald W. Walker, Richard E. Turley Jr., Glen M. Leonard, and their colleagues uncovered a great deal of new information about the 1857 massacre, including two major collections of documents from people who participated in the massacre or knew others who did. This volume presents full-color images of the original documents accompanied by typed transcriptions. Brief biographical sketches introduce the individuals who provided the information.

Wayward Saints: The Social and Religious Protests of the Godbeites against Brigham Young, by Ronald W. Walker

400 pages, softcover ~~$24.95~~ $8.00

A story that includes spiritualist séances, conspiracy, and an important Church trial, Wayward Saints chronicles the 1870s challenge of a group of British Latter-day Saint intellectuals to Brigham Young's authority. William S. Godbe and his associates protested against Young because they disliked his demanding leadership style and resented what they perceived to be Young's intrusion into matters of personal choice. Their story is intertwined with many significant events that transpired in Utah Territory during Brigham Young's tenure as Church President.
